Youth Tour to Washington, D.C.

Applications Open for 2017 Trip

Do you know any high school juniors who are curious about how government works and want to learn more about the political process?

If so, tell them to consider applying for the 2017 Youth Tour to Washington, D.C.

Rock Energy Cooperative will sponsor two high school juniors on the June 10-16 trip to Washington.

They will join about 1,600 students from co-ops across the nation as they meet with congressional representatives, tour historic sites, and learn about the cooperative business model.

Lyndon Johnson inspired the Youth Tour in 1957 when he addressed the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association (NRECA) Annual Meeting in Chicago.

“If one thing goes out of this meeting, it will be sending youngsters to the national capital where they can actually see what the flag stands for and represents,” the Texas senator and future president declared.

While on the trip, students also will learn the principles required to keep cooperative members working together for the co-op’s success by establishing their own chip and soda cooperative.

Applicants must be children of Rock Energy members and reside in the co-op’s service territory.

The trip includes transportation, lodging, meals, and admission fees to all events. Round-trip travel is by motor coach from Springfield, Ill. Travel to Springfield is not included.

Representing Rock Energy during the 2016 trip were Leah Knaul of Roscoe, Nathan Stevens of Rockton, and Seth Trickel of Beloit.

Current high school juniors who would like to be considered can apply online at www.rock.coop. Applications must be submitted by Feb. 28.

Use SmartHub to Get End-of-Year Reports

It's the start of a new year and time to begin gathering your financial documents in preparation for tax time.

Did you know that a record of your energy use is available with a few computer clicks?

Many members want end-of-year reports on the amount they paid for utilities. Instead of the time-consuming process of calling the office to request the information and waiting for employees to compile the data and mail it, you can access your account online and get what you need.

SmartHub is Rock Energy Cooperative's online account management system that allows members to view their statement, pay their bill, compare usage, and see their billing history. If you aren't familiar with SmartHub, here's how to get started:

- Go to www.rock.coop. Select "New User?" in the SmartHub login area at the top of the page. Enter your account number, account holder's last name, and e-mail address.
- Click the "Submit" button, and the registration screen will expand.
- Enter the required security information and click "Submit."
- A registration complete alert will appear, and SmartHub will send a temporary
