Energy Assistance Available For Low-Income Households

The Wisconsin Home Energy Assistance Program (WHEAP) helps eligible low-income households pay for winter energy services. Fortunately, Rock Energy Cooperative works with WHEAP, which benefits about 230,000 Wisconsin households each year.

Additional information about energy assistance and how to apply can be found below and on page 17.

HOW TO APPLY

To apply for assistance, you'll need to complete an application and provide information on each household member and their income, as well as records of your heating costs.

For more information and application details, please contact your local office:

- Rock County: 608-363-9200, Energy Services Inc., Eclipse Center, 600 Henry Ave., Suite 25A, Beloit, or 1 Parker Place, Suite 405, Janesville.
- Green County: 608-328-1111, Energy Services Inc., 749 10th Ave. Ct., Monroe.
- Walworth County: 262-427-8505, Energy Services Inc., 319 N. Wisconsin St., Elkhorn.
- Dane County: 608-267-8601, Energy Services Inc., 1225 S. Park St., Madison.

Weatherization Services

When you apply for energy assistance, the local agency also will see if you qualify for the Weatherization Assistance Program, which helps fund energy-efficiency and home improvement projects. If you are eligible for weatherization services, an energy auditor will look at your home to see what can be done to make it more energy efficient. Weatherization services differ with each home, depending on how it was built and its condition.

For general information about WHEAP or the Weatherization Assistance Program, call 866-HEATWIS 866-432-8947 or visit www.energyandhousing.wi.gov.

WHEAP Details

WHEAP heat and electric assistance is a one-time benefit payment per heating season that is intended to help pay a portion of a household's heat and electric costs. The benefit amount depends on household size, income, and energy costs.

In most cases, the benefit is applied as a credit directly to the household's Rock Energy account. You do not need to duplicate your efforts by applying for assistance with both your local agency and Rock Energy. WHEAP will send you a letter about one month after receiving your application that will have details on your assistance status and dollar amounts.

You are eligible for heating assistance if your household's combined income is at or below the levels shown on the WHEAP Income Guidelines chart on page 17.

Installing A Generator? Make Sure To Think "Safety First"

If you're considering the purchase of a generator, there are several factors that need to be carefully considered, so it's very important that both the Rock Energy Natural Gas and Electric Departments are notified of a generator installation in case your electric service needs to be upgraded.

If the electric service needs to be changed, you will need to get an electrical permit, to make sure any changes, such as a transfer switch installation, meet all electrical codes. If the utility service needs to be disconnected in order to install any equipment for the generator, contact Rock Energy to do this. An electrician is not permitted to disconnect service. Rock Energy will reconnect service after the electrical inspector approves the changes that were made.

For more information, scan the QR code and watch Rock Energy's Generator Installation Safety video.

Make sure to keep these important items in mind when it comes to generator installation:

- Before you purchase a generator, make a list of essential appliances and devices you'll want to power during an outage, then total the required wattage. This will help you to determine your backup power needs in order to select the right generator size.
- Improperly installed generators can create back feed, which is dangerous to our crews and the community. Before using the generator, disconnect the normal source of power coming into your home.
- Be aware that safety requirements may differ based on the type of generator you purchase. Thoroughly read the operator's manual and know how to shut off the generator quickly.

If you have any questions about generator installation, please call Rock Energy at 866-752-4550.
